

MP Incubation Program Associate

About the program

Mandela Partners (MP) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving health, creating wealth, and building assets in under-resourced communities through food enterprises. By working with local residents, family farmers, and community-based businesses, MP employs a systems-based approach to address economic disinvestment, food insecurity, and health inequities. The organization builds on local assets to cultivate thriving communities, fostering sustainable solutions that promote economic and social resilience.

MP Incubation was born in response to the expanding informal food business boom of 2020. Participants in our Food Business Pathways programs were looking for sales channel opportunities to test out their products and business concepts. The program provides small food business owners and culinary entrepreneurs of color with resources such as kitchen training, culturally relevant technical support, and individualized mentorship. Through our incubator food hall, E14th Eatery + Kitchen, and formal partnerships with local farmers' markets, participants access low-barrier sales channels to test and refine their offerings, gaining exposure and building clientele. Entrepreneurs also engage in food "pop-up" events, scaling their businesses while contributing to the local economy and expanding food options in unincorporated Ashland. These efforts collectively drive equitable economic development and foster innovation within the culinary sector.

Key Areas of Responsibility

The MP Incubation Program Associate will play a key role in supporting Mandela Partners' incubation initiatives, including the E14th Eatery + Kitchen food hall, by providing essential operational, logistical, and relational support to early-stage food business owners in West Oakland, Ashland, and other disinvested East Bay neighborhoods. Working closely with the Incubation Program Manager, the Associate helps maintain a welcoming, functional, and collaborative environment for entrepreneurs using the shared kitchen space. The ideal candidate is solutions-oriented, organized, and passionate about food entrepreneurship, economic equity, and supporting local small businesses.
